What's New- Holidays!

We request health system partners to be proactive in reaching out to the public to share when and where they can access services over the holidays. In particular, it is important your patients know where to access non-emergency care during the holiday week of December 26-31. To help with this task, the LHIN, in collaboration with the southwesthealthline.ca, has developed a holiday resource page to share options for non-emergency medical access during the holidays:

holidays.southwesthealthline.ca. This page will evolve over the coming weeks with information to be added on lab and diagnostic services, and primary care.

What's New!

300 seats available for Indigenous Cultural Training.

8 hours of training over 8-9 weeks on computer

Usually 250 but now free from LHIN
